My Dear Mrs. Manley;

I just had a phone call from your secretary regarding an ad for this week's issue, but I told her that I would not carry any ads for you without written authority from you stating the amount you desire to pay for such ad. In fact, as I told you last fall when we had a wrangle over the amount due me, that I didn't care about carrying your ads for the 1940 season on account of your bad attitude.

I received your press card you sent me and I thank you very much for same. And if you care to, you may send one season pass for Albert Cox of my staff, and a one day pass for Gene Austin who will cover the opening game here Sunday. Cox is a young man I am training as my future sports writer. And Gene Austin will assist him at the game Sunday.

Thanking you in advance. I am,

Yours very truly,

Fred R. Clark
